Jio free 100 gb data

Xiaomi has once again created waves in the mobile phone industry with the Redmi Go - an extremely affordable smartphone for less than Rs 5,000. The Redmi Go is meant to appeal to first-time smartphone buyers as well as those looking to upgrade from a feature phone. The Redmi Go relies on Google's Android Go platform to deliver a smooth and optimized Android experience on its low-end hardware. The Redmi Go went on sale today and if you've ordered one for yourself, Jio has an interesting offer for you. Reliance Jio offers Redmi Go users massive benefits in terms of data and refund. As soon as a Redmi Go client uses it on a Jio connection, you will be entitled to get up to 100GB of additional data and refund up to Rs 2,200. However, the offer will only apply if the user opts for package Rs 198 or Rs 299. When it comes to the refund, Jio is offering a total of 100 GB of additional data. However, not all 100GB data can be redeemed at the same time. Users get ten 10GB coupons that can be harnessed in subsequent top-ups. The validity of the additional data is still unknown, but since both the valid plans of Rs 198 and Rs 299 offer validity of 28 days, the coupons could be used within one year from the date of the first recharge. For the Rs 2,200 refund, the Jio will give 44 discount coupons worth Rs 50 each. Coupon benefits can be harnessed during purchases from the Ajo app. Jio says these vouchers can also be redeemed for subsequent eligible top-ups of Rs 198 and Rs 299 only. With the use of reimbursement voucher on subsequent top-ups, Rs 198 top-up will be available only for Rs 148. Simultaneously users can enjoy recharging Rs 299 for effectively Rs 249 only. With these plans, Redmi Go users can enjoy a lot of Jio benefits. Those who like to stream video or movies and require more data will find the 10GB data vouchers favorable. Refund vouchers can also be used to obtain discounts on top-up packages. The Redmi Go is a slightly precious alternative to Reliance's own JioPhone 2. The Redmi Go joins the likes of Nokia 1 and Micromax Bharat Go as some of the cheapest Android smartphones present on the market. The Redmi Go uses a Qualcomm Snapdragon 425 chipset and comes equipped with 1GB of RAM as well as 8GB of storage. There is also a variant of 16 GB of it. It comes with a 5-inch HD screen and has an 8-megapixel rear camera along with a 5 megapixel selfie camera. A battery of 3000mAh powered the phone. Reliance Jio last week announced a series of initiatives the company is introducing amid the Covid-19 outbreak. The company also said will provide JioFiber at 10 Mbps speed at no service charge. This will only be available to new JioFiber subscribers and in areas where it is geographically feasible, according to Jio. This JioFiber offer reaches users against a ₹1,000 installation charge and Jio will provide a home walkway against a refundable security deposit of ₹1500. In addition to users will have data of 100 GB at speed of 10 Mbps over a period of 30 days. Once the 100GB data is capped, users will be able to continue using the internet but at 1 Mbps Speed. Interested users can also update their plans to existing ones from ₹699 for the JioFiber bronze plan. This JioFiber offering also comes with existing JioFiber features such as access to its suite of apps, video calls, TV calls and video conferencing, and games. The new JioFiber offer is only available to new customers, and availability depends on whether the area is geographically feasible or not, as it is a fiber connection. Details of this offer from JioFiber were first reported by ET. As for JioFiber's existing customers, the company has duplicated data from all existing subscription plans. Jio also doubled the profits on its 4G data vouchers for mobile users. These Jio 4G data vouchers now offer twice as much data and more minutes of non-Jio calls as well. There is also a Jio job from the home plan at a price ₹251 with data of 2GB per day.
